Political Prodigality Must Stop

If we Americans have been suffering from any illusions regarding the cost of an adequate national defense structure, they should be shattered by now. The billion dollars or so requested in the President's recent special message to Congress was but a small drop in the bucket. Congress has already raised that amount to more than $5,000,000,000 for defense purposes—and that sum, gigantic as it is, marks only the beginning.

Some of the leading columnists have been criticizing high government officials for failing to frankly inform the people as to just what sacrifices are now necessary. And that indictment seems justified from a completely non-partisan point of view. Defense appropriations have been requested on a piece-meal basis. No reliable estimate of the total cost has been issued by any responsible government source. And no definite plan has been presented to the people who must pay the bill.

In the opinion of Senator Byrd of Virginia, who has proven himself a cool head when it comes to fiscal matters, reasonable rearmament for this country will cost, not five or six billion, but as much as $20,000,000,000. The question before us now is not whether we shall rearm to the limit. All are agreed that must be done. The question is how to pay for it in a logical, business-like manner, free from waste and too much politics.

To that question, there are three related answers. It will be necessary to raise the debt limit. It will be necessary to cut the cost of government to the bone. Every nickel spent now for an unnecessary or avoidable purpose should be regarded as criminal waste. Excessive relief appropriations, excessive farm aid appropriations, the luxury of political spending of money to put government into competition with private business, must be stopped. The people are ready to pay the bill. But they will not permit further political prodigality when the nation needs the weapons that can make us secure against invasion.

A Common Goal

The head of an agricultural organization recently pointed to the virtues of farm marketing cooperation. This, he said, is necessary to successful, profitable farming. And he then said that marketing must be two-fold. It is not enough for farmers to cooperate among themselves—they must also cooperate to the full with our other great economic groups, industry and labor.

The principal farm marketing co-ops have long worked on this theory. And that has been largely responsible for their undoubted success. No one group can stand alone and apart in this country—only when all groups work together toward the attainment of a common goal, can progress for all be assured.

Are We Any Wiser?

There is plenty of criticism of the European democracies for what some consider their astonishing failure to recognize in time the fast-growing military power of the dictator nations, and to prepare to meet it.

Informed commentators are now asking if we are any wiser. We have the same chance to prepare that England and France had a few years ago. Will we do it, with maximum efficiency and minimum waste—or will we permit red tape and politics to make our defense program ineffective?

It is no longer popular to say "go to the ant, thou sluggard." Nowadays the thing to do is advise him to get on relief.

It is to be doubted whether "he keeps us out of war" will be a paramount issue in the coming campaign. We have heard that one before.

It is rumored that the Democratic National Convention will hand President Roosevelt a third nomination on a silver platter with the understanding that he will decline it. Knowing politicians as we do, we don't think that if we were a delegate we would want to take a chance like that.

Better buy NOW— And get Top Value for your Money

IT'S pretty conclusive proof of a real value when more people than ever before buy a certain make of car in a single year.

That is true of this 1940 Buick.

It's pretty good proof of value when a higher percentage of all new-car buyers selects that car after looking the field over.

That is also true of this 1940 Buick.

So on sheer value, it should be clear that right now, "Best buy's Buick"—the question we'd like to ask is: Isn't this also the best time to buy?

Isn't this the smart time to put yourself behind a brand-new power plant, husky, thrifty, thrilling — and smoother than ever?

Isn't this a smart time to get more room—up-to-date controls — sure, soft brakes — new rubber — springing that never needs lubrication — truly modern features (Buick has no less than six dozen) — months on months of reliable, trouble-free, low-cost, stay-out-of-the-shop service?

Grand Officers are Visitors to Antioch Eastern Star Chapter

Mrs. Lulu E. Benson, worthy grand matron of the Illinois Eastern Star chapter, and Alfred N. Moore, grand patron, were guests of honor at a meeting of the Antioch chapter Monday evening in the Masonic temple.

Twenty-four chapters and six states were represented among the 150 guests registered for the event. Illinois, Wisconsin, New York, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas were the states represented.

A dinner at the Antioch Methodist church, with covers placed for 99, preceded the meeting. The gathering afterward adjourned to the chapter room in the temple. Dinner decorations were in Fourth of July colors. A giant firecracker wrapped in red cellophane was a centerpiece. The candles were in red, white and blue, and tiny "men" made from firecrackers, and flags decorated each place.

The evening's program included several vocal solos by Mrs. Lois Goodpasture of Deerfield, among them the favorite number, "I Heard a Forest Praying." Louise Elms and Gloria Patrovsky gave tap dances.

A light luncheon was served in the dining room at the close of the evening.

TWO BOYS TO LEAVE FOR MA-KA-JA-WAN

Donald Bratrud and Dudley Ward, Scouts of Troop 91, will attend Boy Scout Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan for the period July 20-August 2.

This 400-acre woodland has a private lake with ample boating and fishing facilities. It gives a Scout all advantages for Scoutcraft and advancement. The camp is open only to registered Scouts. Scouting ideals are promoted in daily living in the seven villages comprising the camp. There are four periods of two weeks each. The average is 200 Scouts per period.

Donald and Dudley will leave for camp July 20 from Highland Park in a special train made up of Scouts attending camp that period.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 7.

The Golden Text was, "Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen" (Revelation 7:12).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"That God is a corporeal being, nobody can truly affirm. The Bible represents Him as saying: 'Thou canst not see My face; for there shall no man see Me, and live.' Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, waring no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the influence of our God" (p. 140).

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY LESSON

JOB'S STRUGGLE TO FAITH IN LIFE AFTER DEATH

LESSON TEXT—Job 14:13-17; 17:13-18; 19:23-29
GOLDEN TEXT—For I know that my redeemer liveth.—Job 19:25.

If life ends at the grave, it has comparatively little meaning and its struggles and sorrows are hardly worth bearing. Job, living in all probability about 1,500 years before Christ, did not have our knowledge of the resurrection of Christ and the assurance that He is but the "first fruits of them that slept" and that we too shall rise (see I Cor. 15:22, 23). But in the midst of suffering, discouragement and spiritual conflict, he looked with the eye of faith all the way beyond the grave.

The background of our lesson is found in Job's experience with his three professed comforters, who speak thus:

"Eliphaz: But who ever perish being innocent (4:7)? Be glad that you are being corrected (4:17). Job: Answer my question and I will keep still. Show me where I am wrong. What does your 'proof' prove (6:24, 25)?

"Biddad: Do you think God perverts justice (8:3)? Ask the wise men of the ages. Consider what our fathers taught (8:8). Job: It is all the same; God destroys the righteous with the wicked (9:22).

"Zophar: Do you expect to understand God? Put evil away (11:7, 14). Job: I know as much as you do (13:2). Your burning remarks are cold ashes (13:12). I would like to reason it out with God (13:3). I have stated my case; I am righteous (13:8).

"The three friends have not helped him, but Job struggles on alone with the problem."—Dr. Carl S. Knopf.

I. Uncertainty—"If a man die, shall he live again?" (14:13-17).

Job, while maintaining that he was righteous, felt that his sufferings must indicate that God was displeased with him. He thought he might best seek refuge in Sheol (R. V. in place of "grave" in v. 13), the abode of the dead. But suddenly he turned again to the hope which was dear to his heart; namely, that somehow there must be a blessed future life with God.

He asked the question, "If a man die, shall he live again?" The fact that he quickly lapsed into despair indicates that he was not certain that the answer to his question was "Yes." How blessed it is that we know, for have we not heard the voice of the One who, standing before a grave in Bethany, said, "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live" (John 11:25)?

II. Hope—"Where, then, is my hope?" (Job 17:13-16).

Eliphaz had again sought to set Job right by accusing him of vanity, impatience and pride (chap. 15). Job answered (chaps. 16 and 17) that his friends were worse than useless as comforters, being so sanctimonious in their assurance of his wickedness, when in fact he was only a man who was on the verge of despair, but still holding to his faith in God.

Job cried out, "Where, then, is my hope?"—undoubtedly thus expressing his bewilderment, bordering on complete despair. Yet do we not even in the question see that he still had hope? The man who has given up says, "There is no hope"; but Job continued to hope against hope, crying out, "Where is my hope?" knowing full well that his only hope was in God.

There is a lesson here that we do well to learn. Whatever our situation may be we shall find that God is there and that we may trust Him.

"Does all the world seem against you And you in the battle alone? Remember, at 'W's End Corner' Is where God's power is shown."

III. Faith—"I know that my redeemer liveth" (Job 19:23-29).

What blessed vision and what glorious faith! Job lived in the time of Moses or before. He had no New Testament—no old Testament—but he did have God, and by faith he believed that God was to make Himself known to man here on earth as a living Redeemer.

We say that we know because we have the record of His coming; of the Son of God incarnate; of His bearing our sins on Calvary; of His death and resurrection again; of His ascension to be with the Father, and His coming again in glory and power. Job, however, had to reach through doubt and darkness to faith in life after death. How much richer should be our faith, infinitely more precious, stirring us to loving obedience and service for Christ our Redeemer.

A Blessed Inheritance

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you.—1 Peter: 1, 3, 4.

Antioch Guildway Home Attracts Many Visitors

Wide interest is being shown in the Triple Insulated Guildway home being built at 415 Hardin street, Antioch, Ed Vos, of the Antioch Lumber & Coal Co., Inc., Johns-Manville dealers, reported today.

Pointing out that visitors have been welcome at the site ever since the day that work began on the home, Ed Vos declared as a result of the inspection trips made to date, more than 200 people in this locality have gained a greater knowledge of sound construction principles in modern home building.

All of the many attractive features of planning and equipment which appear in the finished house are secondary in importance, Vos declared, to a sturdy basic construction with durable materials such as those being used by the Antioch Lumber & Coal Co., in building the model Guildway home here. For this reason, he says, it is just as important for a home buyer to look over prospective houses during the various construction stages, as it is for him to inspect the completed structures.

Since it is being constructed in accordance with the principle of Triple insulation developed by Johns-Manville, Vos stated that the model Guildway home here will be provided with lasting protection against fire, weather and wear.

"Most families buy but one house in their lifetime," he pointed out, "and for this reason their economic welfare as well as their comfort and well-being depend to no little degree upon how well the house withstands deterioration. For example, no part of a house reveals its standard of construction more quickly than the plaster walls and ceilings, and nothing mars the appearance of a room more than cracked and falling plaster.

"To reduce the necessity for future repairs and to avoid high upkeep expense, the Triple Insulated Guildway home here is being built to be as nearly wearproof as possible," said Mr. Vos. "An example of this construction is the recently developed Steeltex which is being used as a base for all the plaster in the home. This is a Johns-Manville product that reduces the possibility of cracking plaster to a minimum, and at the same time adds strength and rigidity to the walls and renders them more fire-safe.

"Consisting of a welded, galvanized steel wire mesh with an absorbent fibrous backing, Vos said, "Steeltex brings to the house the same principle of reinforced construction that is used in skyscrapers. The plaster slab becomes embedded in the wire mesh, resulting in on one-piece steel reinforced wall with an underwriter's Laboratory fire-rating of one hour, the highest for any type of plaster wall."

The fireproof asbestos shingles used on the roof of the home (and fireproof asbestos clapboards on the side walls) never require paint to preserve them. And these long-lasting materials, reproducing the beauty of grained wood, play a highly important part in making the Colonial style of the home authentic and attractive.

Univ. of Illinois Has 3 Colleges In Chicago Unit

Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy
Are Part of City's Great Medical Center.

Illinois has the nation's largest College of Medicine in terms of numbers of students; it has a College of Dentistry building which by common consent is regarded as the best in the world; it has a College of Pharmacy which was the first of its kind west of the Allegheny mountains, the third in the nation, and today is one of the country's leaders. Dr. R. B. Allen, executive dean of University of Illinois colleges in Chicago, said today.

The university's colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, and Pharmacy and the associated hospital units of the state department of public welfare in Chicago are the second largest part of the city's great West Side medical center. The largest unit of the center are the Cook County hospitals having more than 3,000 beds. The center spreads over several large city blocks.

"In relation to the entire state, the University of Illinois colleges have a unique position," Dean Allen said. "Every one of the 635 medical students is a resident of the state of Illinois. The College of Pharmacy is the only approved college of its kind in the state."

Relations of the three University of Illinois colleges with the state department of public welfare are an outstanding and unique example of co-operation between state units. The department provides buildings for special research and institutional work, and the university provides the clinical and teaching staff. The patients come from all parts of the state. The buildings adjoin and are a part of the university's medical campus.

"The colleges are as much a part of the University of Illinois as those located in Urbana-Champaign on the main campus. But they are located in Chicago because here are located the hospital and other facilities which are necessary for training professional men and women in the health sciences," explains Dean Allen.

Approximately 1,200 students are registered in the university's three colleges at Chicago. The staff of 760 persons for teaching and other services includes approximately 300 instructors who serve without salary while maintaining private practices.

The plant is valued at nearly $4,000,000. The clinics and dispensaries serve more than 67,000 persons a year. There are 635 students in medicine, 225 in dentistry, 230 in pharmacy, and some 200 graduate and special students.

Among the hospitals and institutes maintained here by the state department of Public Welfare and staffed by the University of Illinois is the Research and Educational Hospital, a general hospital of 300 beds. Each year some 6,000 charity patients are selected for study and care here. The obstetrical department cares for 1,000 deliveries a year, 70 per cent in the hospital. Seven surgical operating rooms have amphitheaters for medical students to view the work of the staff experts. The cancer clinic has a 400,000 volt X-ray machine, and recently acquired 215 grams of radium for its work. The entire hospital is used for teaching medical students through practical clinical work.

The Illinois Surgical Institute for Children has beds for 130 patients. Its services include a treatment swimming pool, school rooms, and a shop for manufacturing braces and plaster casts. Patients are admitted from anywhere in the state when they are unable to pay for necessary services, or when the condition from which they suffer can be benefited by special study and has teaching value.

The Psychiatric Institute is a central research unit for all state hospitals caring for mental cases. It now has space only for 60 beds, but a new building to be occupied this summer will provide for 150 more beds for this department and the department of Neurology and Neurosurgery.

The Institute for Juvenile Research is unique in that it is studying the causes, prevention, and treatment of juvenile delinquency in all forms. No other state has a service organized in this way. Its studies in the growth and development of children are of special medical interest.

Dean Allen calls attention to a unique example of collaboration between not only two colleges of the University of Illinois but colleges located on the two campuses—that at Chicago and that at Urbana-Champaign. This example is the study of the effect of atmospheric environment on the functioning of the body in health and disease.

This study of air conditioning is being carried on jointly by the College of Medicine at Chicago and the College of Engineering at Urbana-Champaign. The engineers are experts in studying the equipment, the physicians in studying the effects on humans.

1,500 Editorials Read In WILL Program

More than 1,500 newspaper editorials are read every year in the "Illinois Editorial Review" program presented twice a week over the University of Illinois non-commercial radio station, WILL (580 kc.). It is the only educational non-commercial broadcaster in the state.

Two hundred copies of Illinois daily and weekly newspapers are read each week to prepare the "Illinois Editorial Review." The papers include some 25 daily and 50 weekly publications from all parts of the state.

The University of Illinois has the world's first association of dads of college students. It was organized in 1921. Current officers of the University of Illinois Dad's association are Perry Graves, Robinson, president; George F. Maharry, Tolono, vice president; Chauncey L. Finck, Urbana, secretary-treasurer. Directors are John R. Fornof, Streator; Roy J. Solisburg, Aurora; Frank H. McKelvey, Springfield; Wort Herrick, Clinton; C. C. Glasscock, Mattoon.

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

SWINE DYSENTERY A NEW SWINE MENACE

Swine dysentery or so-called bloody scours is the latest and most serious threat to the feeder-pig industry.

Even though a great deal of research work has been centered on the swine dysentery problem, the exact cause has not yet been identified. At least one scientist, however, claims to have reproduced the disease by feeding healthy pigs on finely ground pieces of intestine from pigs that recently died of the disease.

Dysentery or bloody scours usually appears among newly purchased pigs in from 10 to 30 days. Native pigs on these farms readily contract the trouble from the newly-purchased animals.

Affected pigs develop a high fever about 24 hours before they begin the mucoid, blood-tinged diarrhea that characterizes the disease. The death loss is heavy and pigs that recover very often spend the rest of their lives as long-haired, unthrifty, unprofitable runts. Some of these recovered pigs seem to act as carriers and, once the infection is brought to a farm, the premise is liable to remain contaminated for a long time.

In view of the widespread nature of swine dysentery, it becomes important for every purchaser of new feeder pigs to isolate these animals from his home herd just as soon as they are brought to the farm. They should be inspected at least three times daily and any animals showing watery hind parts should be immediately isolated and a veterinarian should make an immediate diagnosis.

Emaciated appearance and poor condition typical of swine dysentery.

This type of bowel disease should not be confused with the chronic condition "Necro."

Veterinary research workers have recently advanced the thought that vitamin G deficiency may have a bearing on the occurrence of swine dysentery. Hence such foods as dried milk, buttermilk, alfalfa meal and alfalfa pasture may be helpful.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet next Wednesday, July 17, with Mrs. McGlashan at her home, and visitors are very welcome. Meeting is called to order at 2 p. m.

H. J. Nelson was quite ill at his home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sorenson, Robert and Wilbur Sorenson of Tomahawk, Wis., visited their sister, Mrs. L. J. Tweed, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of Beloit, Wis., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seeger at Fox Lake over the Fourth of July holiday.

Clarence Kelly, eleven year old son of Mrs. Marie Kelly, was the only one in our village, as far as reported, who received injuries from firecrackers last Thursday. He had put several crackers in a pipe, plugged one end, then lit the firecrackers. The resulting explosion blew dirt and cinders into the eye, but it is believed that there was no serious injury.

The Sherwood camp grounds have been filled to capacity over the recent holidays and nice weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hamlin, accompanied by Mrs. Hamlin's sister from Waukegan, and a friend enjoyed an automobile trip into Wisconsin last Wednesday night and Thursday.

New Equipment for Lake

The Lake Villa Fire Department, considered as one of the most modern equipped departments in the county, has just accepted delivery of a new combination fire truck, consisting of an 800 gallon capacity water tank, 500 gallons per minute, front mounted pump and 40 feet of 1 inch booster line hose. It has provisions for more extra hose and other equipment. This piece of equipment has long been needed for rural fire fighting in areas which have a limited water supply, and now with this fire fighting unit in addition to the one we already had, the Lake Villa fire department is one of the best equipped companies for a village or town of this size. The new tank truck is available to the entire fire protection district and also to neighboring villages in case of an emergency. The tank and pump were built by the W. S. Darley Co. of Chicago, manufacturers of fire fighting equipment. It is mounted on a Ford chassis with Mercury motor.

"THE CAUSE"

"If you accept life, and are willing to exalt it above names, phrases, and things;

If you accept truth, and after the severest tests, are not afraid;

If you accept brotherliness as better than the hates of the jungle;

If you love justice, and hate the very semblance of exploitation;

If you love work as the expression of the Creative idea,

Then let us work together; we will be comrades!

We will eat our bread by the sweat of our faces;

Our grace at table shall be the consciousness that we have earned what we eat;

We will not ask God for our daily bread, like pious mendicants;

We will ask for the daily tasks, that working together with Him we shall share His creations.

And these are the tasks toward which we will set our faces;

Tasks of the seed-time and harvest,

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Farnham F. Dudgeon

French Break Diplomatic Ties With England Following Loss Of Fleet in Naval Encounter

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

"Take a tip from me," or "How to be a vice president" might well be captions of this picture showing Vice President John N. Garner congratulating his colleague, Sen. Charles L. McNary of Oregon, upon his return to senate duty following his selection as the G. O. P. nominee for Mr. Garner's post. Garner, never without a cigar, reportedly told McNary at the time of his congratulations that "Charlie, the first thing you must learn for this job, is the proper way to hold a cigar."

THE WAR: Strange Battle

Since that fateful day on which the French government came to armistice terms with Adolf Hitler, major problem facing Great Britain has been the disposition of the French fleet. For control of the seas and the continuation of the naval blockade against the axis powers is vital to the British cause.

Well did Winston Churchill and his advisers know that if Germany interned the French navy or turned it against England, the combined naval weight of Germany, Italy and France would be superior to their own.

Naval experts throughout the world had predicted that England would never allow the French fleet to fall into German hands. And after a brief but fierce naval engagement on the North African coast these predictions were fulfilled.

As Prime Minister Churchill reported to the house of commons this battle wrecked the French fleet and cheated the dictator's attempts to control the seas. In addition to heavy French loss of life, Churchill said, seven of France's crack warships were sunk or badly damaged. At least 217 other French naval units have been seized in British ports since the armistice.

This naval battle occurred when the French naval commander at Oran, Algiers, Admiral Marcel Gensoul, acting under Nazi orders, chose to fight it out after a British ultimatum demanded that he either deliver his ships in British ports or scuttle them.

In the resulting battle the backbone of the French fleet was either sunk, seized or dispersed.

Two days following the naval encounter the French government notified Germany that because of the "unjustifiable aggression" by Britain's fleet, France had severed diplomatic relations with England. Thus allies of what had been termed a "never-ending" alliance came to a distinct parting of the ways.

DOMESTIC:

First Installment

It costs money—and a lot of it—to carry on a program of military preparedness and defense such as that now being undertaken by the United States, but some U. S. citizens have believed that such money would just automatically appear upon call. Such is not the case and now for the first time U. S. consumers are paying their share of this defense bill every time they go to a movie, buy a package of cigarettes, drink a glass of beer or order a pint of liquor.

For the first of the new defense taxes has been placed in effect on the following commodities and at the increased rates listed:

Half cent on a package of cigarettes; 75 cents a gallon on liquor; $1 a barrel on beer; and movie ticket taxes will start at one cent of every 10 cent admission fee at 21 cents instead of 41 cents.

Taxes on toilet preparations increased from 10 to 11 per cent; automobiles 3 to 3½ per cent; mechanical refrigerators 5 to 5½ per cent; matches 5 cents to 5½ cents per thousand; electrical energy, 3 to 3½ per cent; gasoline 1 to 1½ cents per gallon; lubricating oil 4 to 4½ cents per gallon; playing cards 10 to 11 cents a pack; club dues and initiation fees 10 to 11 per cent.

All these "nuisance taxes" are expected to produce about $475,000,000 of the billion dollars to be obtained annually from the defense financing program. Major portion of the remaining sum will come from increased income taxes.

Value Received

One big reason why these new taxes are so necessary is the expansion of the U. S. fleet, now estimated to be the largest in the world—and this estimate includes the hitherto first-ranking British fleet.

Naval experts put the present strength of the United States fleet at 398 completed combat ships of 1,327,320 tons. This does not include $500,000,000 worth of new warships just ordered by the navy or nearly 100 other vessels now under construction. Latest available figures on Britain's navy put it at 313 ships of 1,277,189 tons. While these figures are admittedly inexact they are best obtainable in Europe.

Army Expansion

Not to be outdone by the navy, the war department is moving along with its program of expansion and streamlining at an increasing tempo. Taxes that consumers were paying were being used by this branch of the service for new equipment, for intensive specialized training and for long-deferred promotions in the ranks of army officers. A recruiting drive of an additional 38,000 men is under way and is expected to bring the ranks of the regulars up to 280,000 by September.

TRUST BUSTING:

Birthday

Many laws at 50 years of age are outmoded and more often are forgotten and discarded. This is not true of the Sherman anti-trust act which passed its fiftieth birthday with the federal government having 63 anti-trust cases involving 1,580 defendants pending in U. S. courts. Instituted by Senator John Sherman of Ohio as the nation's answer to the rising fear of monopoly in those days, the same law is being vigorously used today in battling restraint of trade by big corporations.

EDUCATION:

Saving Democracy

When more than 11,000 teachers from throughout the nation gathered for the seventy-eighth annual convention of the National Education association in Milwaukee, Wis., "saving democracy" and making the "schools the first line of defense" were the keynotes of the meeting. Through the major speeches and committee reports of the convention ran this same theme—U. S. schools shall continue aid in meeting "the challenge of dictators."

'Praying Colonel'

Col. Frank Knox, testifying before the Senate Naval Affairs committee as it was considering his nomination as Secretary of Navy, strikes this "praying pose" while presenting a portion of his testimony. The committee approved his nomination by a 9 to 5 vote and the military affairs committee approved the nomination of Henry L. Stimson as Secretary of War by a 13-4 vote.

POLITICS:

'People's Movement'

While old guard Republicans were pondering the strange political phenomenon that boosted Wendell Willkie to be their standard bearer in the 1940 campaign, that gentleman was busy outlining plans which he hopes will aid in carrying him to victory in November.

First step was his resignation as president of Commonwealth & Southern corporation.

Then he announced the appointment of a permanent political advisory committee of 12 members to help in the campaign. This group, headed by Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, will replace no other party organization but appears to be an attempt to solidify all elements of the G. O. P. and at the same time make a bid for the nation's all-important independent vote.

At the same time Willkie declared that he wanted no campaign contributions of more than $5,000, no individual cash gifts of more than $10, and attempting to limit the "big business curse" as much as possible, he stated that he wanted "no corporate contributions in any guise whether they be advertising in campaign books, programs, or anything else."

The more $1 contributions he receives, the happier he'll be, he says, for "In my judgment this is a people's movement and I want to keep it so."

Apparently the G. O. P. "oomph" man realizes that his biggest job is to keep the good graces of the grassroots public opinion that was such a vital factor in his nomination.

FAR EAST:

Biggest problem facing Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as his Chinese forces have been steadily retreating before the advance of the invading Japanese army has been the obtaining of adequate supplies—war goods and foodstuffs.

Thus when the Japanese announced that they had sealed the Chinese border with French Indo-China and that this source of supply for Kai-shek's government was definitely cut off it looked like a grave blow indeed had been struck at China's cause.

But from Chungking, provisional capital of the Chinese government, authoritative sources have announced that despite this loss, the war will be continued, for accumulated reserves will allow military operations to continue at their present pace for at least a year.

MISCELLANY:

Three Years

When Moses L. Annenberg pleaded guilty to indictment charging him with evasion of $1,217,296 in income taxes due the federal government, the "boys in the back room" were betting plenty that the wealthy Philadelphia publisher and former operator of racing news information services on a huge profitable nationwide scale, would get off with a few sharp words and a much sharper fine. But the "railbirds" failed to reckon with U. S. District Judge James H. Wilkerson of Chicago, who, after hearing the testimony of the government and after listening to Moe's plea for "justice" sentenced him to serve three years in federal prison.

Southeast Texas battled cloud-burst-swollen streams in a damaging flood that took at least four lives, left hundreds homeless and caused property damage estimated at at least a million dollars.

A new federal prison for correctional care of 600 male prisoners has been opened by the justice department in Denver, Colo.

Extraordinary precautions have been put into effect at the port of New Orleans because of the danger of fifth columnists and possible saboteurs, according to the port commission of that city.

"Bigger and Better" Wisconsin State Fair Planned for Aug. 17-25

Entering its nineteenth year, the Wisconsin State fair is preparing a celebration of nine days, Aug. 17 to 25 at Milwaukee, that will be worthy of such a rare birthday.

A round sum of $55,000 is being spent for entertainment—$5,000 more than has ever been spent before. Premiums total $9,548, with increases in many departments. New lanterns, stone barns and other improvements cost $100,000.

Always a great production, the night show, "Stars of America," will top its own high standard in wholesome entertainment this year, according to Ralph E. Ammon, manager of the fair. The number of acts have been increased from 10 to 15 and the talent represented, as well as costumes and sets, it is said will have never been equalled at any other state fair.

Ammon pointed out that the war has made the pick of European and American entertainers available and that every act will be new and different from any seen there before. The show will open Sunday, Aug. 18, and will be presented every night for the duration of the fair.

The opening night will mark the return of the WLS National Barn dance, which will again be broadcast to the nation direct from the fair's big outdoor stage. All the old favorites as well as the newer stars will be there in person.

The state fair track, nationally recognized as "America's fastest mile dirt track" will be the scene of speed daily. A. M. A. three-star motorcycle races are booked for the opening day. They will be followed by the A. A. A. automobile races Aug. 18, 22 and 27; harness races, Aug. 19, 20, 21, and 23 and a new thrill show, Aug. 26.

Allen York Players Will Appear on Lakes Theater Stage July 17-18

The Allen York players will be presented on the stage at the Lakes theatre (formerly the Crystal), for the first time Wednesday and Thursday evenings, July 17 and 18, the management announces. They will appear at the theatre one week throughout the balance of the summer. The opening play will be a three-act comedy, "The Milky Way," with Mr. York, a former Broadway actor, in the leading role.

York, a graduate of Northwestern university, is the son of parents who were members of various traveling stage companies in the middle west, and as a boy he played the usual parts allotted to children in their productions. He was instrumental in introducing the Little Theatre movement in his "home town" of Oak Park, Ill., and was there associated with Ralph Bellamy and Melvyn Douglass, Ruby Keeler, Ruth Jordan and Gregory Kelly. On invitation from Stuart Walker he joined his Portmanteau Theatre, creating a number of juvenile roles that eventually brought him to Broadway. He played supporting roles with Mary Pickford, Marie Cahill, Ruth Chatterton, Alice Brady, Fluke O'Hara and Eddie Dowling. Among the plays in which he appeared were "Seventeen," "Abraham Lincoln," "Turn to the Right," "Honey-moon Lane," "Dracula" and "The Front Page."

For the past seven seasons York has headed his own company. His players include Paul Holmes, Norman Laum, John Woody, Wayne Pilcher, Bill Lewis, Adaline Patten, Betty McGuen, Betty Woods, Nancy Lurie, Dorothy Guthrie, Cleo Connors, Emma Gullicksen, Helen Chute and Marjorie Lanie.

39 Years' Results to be Seen at Field Meeting

Dr. F. C. Bauer, noted soil expert from the University of Illinois, will discuss the results of the Antioch Experiment field located on the George White farm, southeast of Antioch, on Friday, July 12, at 1:30 p. m.

This small experiment field was started in 1902 by Dr. C. G. Hopkins to study the results of several soil treatments and a good rotation on Lake county soils. Now 39 crops have been grown on this field and can be seen and will be explained at this meeting.

Farmers who have soil problems will have an opportunity to discuss them with Dr. Bauer.

The Observer

A field of tiny, sky-blue blossoms causes the motorist to blink unbelieving eyes, approaching the Tamarack Farm on Highway 173 east of Antioch. Flax! . . . Can it be? . . . And thoughts drift backward to old history books and school days, studying about how the pioneers threshed out from tiny plants the fibres for their clothes and household linens.

Folks around Antioch ought to be pretty well fed, if the prevalence of baked goods sales is any indication. Friendship Circle had one Saturday, St. Ignatius' guild another the preceding Saturday, and comes now the Royal Neighbors lodge with a third one this Saturday. . . . And what we want to know is, can we put in a reservation for a lemon chiffon pie? We're putting off our diet till Sunday . . . but we're not saying which Sunday.
